

RBS Book of Remembrance (1939 to date)

This document is a record of the men and women on the staff of the United Kingdom constituent banks of RBS who gave their lives during the Second World War and the Korean War.

Members of staff who gave their lives during the First World War are commemorated on RBS Remembers 1914-1918 which includes a searchable database containing details of 1,582 men who died in, or as a result of, the war.

background The lists of names in this document have been compiled from contemporary rolls of honour and war memorials produced by the constituent banks themselves, supplemented by information in staff records where these are available.

A search has been made in the bank's archive for information relating to each past constituent bank of RBS in the surviving records. Only one bank recorded fallen of the Korean War.

contents The bank names given are those under which the contemporary records and war memorials were produced.
